

Highlights From Ohio State's First Day In LA

The Ohio State football team touched down in Southern California on Wednesday, kicking off the final stage of preparation for the Rose Bowl.

The Buckeyes had a few stops around Los Angeles before hitting the practice field at the StubHub Center - which happens to be the home of former Buckeye defensive end Joey Bosa.

.@jbbigbear u around? pic.twitter.com/RNfqN1yaHK

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 26, 2018

Practice 1 ☐ underway in LA ☐ #GoBucks #WinTheMoment @rosebowlgame pic.twitter.com/Sf4NeclxDt

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 26, 2018

In addition to practice, Ohio State stopped by Disney Land to spend some time at the “Happiest Place on Earth.” That included a roller coaster experience for junior safety Jordan Fuller.

☐ How did this roller coaster ride end for @j_fuller4? ☐☐

(Head on over to our IG story at @ohiostatefb to find out...) pic.twitter.com/OijRgKayJj

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 26, 2018

The Buckeyes are in the Happiest Place on Earth 📷 pic.twitter.com/6uNGhQzTxb

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 26, 2018

📷 Space Mountain 📷 @da3_ysn @Shoddieslime_13 #GoBucks pic.twitter.com/qqsARd3wb7

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 26, 2018

Name these newest Disney characters. pic.twitter.com/HUieR9I1gD

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 26, 2018

Ohio State posted a longer video to highlight its day at Disney Land as well.

A little fun at the Happiest Place on Earth 📷📷 pic.twitter.com/EQWPHXHBzU

— Ohio State Football (@OhioStateFB) December 27, 2018