

PHOTOS: Ohio State Opens 2019 Spring Practice

With a new coach and a new quarterback leading the way, the Ohio State football team opened spring practice Wednesday morning at the Woody Hayes Athletic Center. Ryan Day, who took over as head coach after the Rose Bowl, led the proceedings, along with five new assistant coaches.

Georgia transfer Justin Fields took first team reps at quarterback as the new-look Buckeyes worked through on-field drills for the first time. Overall, though, it looked like business as usual in Columbus.

Sophomore quarterback Justin Fields with quality control coach Corey Dennis. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Redshirt freshman H-back Jaelen Gill. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Fifth-year senior cornerback Damon Arnette.
(Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Freshman defensive end Noah Potter. (Credit:
Tim Moody/BSB)

Co-defensive coordinator/defensive backs
coach Jeff Hafley. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Freshman defensive end Zach Harrison.
(Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Redshirt freshman defensive back Marcus Hooker. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Junior safety Jahsen Wint. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Sophomore cornerback Sevyn Banks. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

Two of Ohio State's top defensive ends, junior Chase Young and redshirt freshman Tyreke Smith. (Credit: Tim Moody/BSB)

