According to Syracuse.com, she took an unofficial visit to Ohio State on Monday, was impressed by the facilities, and the Buckeyes “scored points by laying out detailed plans for how they see her fitting into the program.”

Across six games this season, Henderson is averaging 33.0 points per game, a year after averaging 24.7 points and 3.8 steals per contest in 2019-20. She currently has 2,096 points in her high school career, fifth-most in the history of New York’s Section III.

This gives the Buckeyes their third commitment for the 2022 class, the others being four-star Ohio wing Cotie McMahon and guard Mya Perry. Ohio State is also bringing in a pair of guards for 2021 in Caitlyn Costner and Taylor Thierry.
