

Dante Booker Signing With Arizona Cardinals As Undrafted Free Agent

Former Ohio State linebacker Dante Booker is set to sign with the Arizona Cardinals as an undrafted free agent, his agent announced Saturday night after the 2019 NFL draft ended in Nashville, Tenn.

Congratulations Dante Booker, Jr. – signed with the @AZCardinals !! #KMMfam
pic.twitter.com/AgGyH4ggbQ

— Kelli Masters Mgmt (@KMMsports) April 28, 2019

The 6-3, 235-pound Booker was named Ohio's Mr. Football following a standout career at Akron (Ohio) St. Vincent-St. Mary and was among Ohio State's top-rated recruits in the class of 2014, but a series of injuries prevented him from making a significant impact with the Buckeyes.

Booker played in 48 games (seven starts) over parts of five seasons in Columbus, and finished his career with 74 tackles, nine tackles for a loss and one interception. He will be reunited in Arizona with former Ohio State linebackers coach Bill Davis, who accepted the same position with the Cardinals this offseason after being relieved of his duties by first-year head coach Ryan Day.

[divider line_type="Full Width Line" line_thickness="2" divider_color="default"]
[nectar_btn size="jumbo" button_style="regular" button_color_2="Accent-Color" icon_family="none" url="http://www.buckeyesports.com/boards/" text="Join The Conversation"]