

Highlights: Ohio State Trounces Maryland, 73-14

Even with star defensive end Chase Young's eligibility hanging in the balance, Ohio State showed no signs of slowing down against their latest Big Ten victim, the Maryland Terrapins. In fact, the Buckeyes looked as good as they have all year, dominating the Terps for four quarters on the way to a 73-14 win that does nothing but increase the excitement for the Buckeyes to move past the final weak part of their schedule next week against Rutgers and onto more worthy opponents.

It was another week led by highlights for the Buckeyes, including seven sacks despite the loss of the aforementioned Heisman contending defensive end. Davon Hamilton kicked off the fireworks with a sack on the first possession, and the defense never looked back after that.

No Chase Young, no problem for the Buckeyes on the first Maryland drive. Davon Hamilton with the sack pic.twitter.com/iqb9hw2R03

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Ohio State found the end zone on the following drive, with Justin Fields hitting a wide open Benjimen Victor for the first score of the game.

Fields to Victor and Ohio State is on the board first pic.twitter.com/iBjKhKBNmz

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Justin Fields took it himself for the next score, giving Ohio State an early 14-0 lead.

Justin Fields keeps, and Ohio State is already up 14 points pic.twitter.com/lyF64sXHpq

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

While the Buckeyes were already rolling, Ryan Day exacted a little revenge on Maryland for last year's game, dialing up a perfect onside kick.

Ohio State has the ball back after an onside kick (!!!), up 14-0 pic.twitter.com/v10rqNK5q6

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

The Buckeyes would score shortly after on a quick pass to K.J. Hill.

Ohio State is in the end zone again, 21-0, still in the first quarter pic.twitter.com/117z4wWjhD

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

The Buckeye sack party didn't have just one occupant in the first quarter, as Tuf Borland got on the board with a massive hit.

Ohio State has another sack, this time from Tuf Borland pic.twitter.com/xlyZNivH6X

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Then, as expected, Ohio State struck again, this time to Chris Olave in the back of the end zone off of a broken coverage.

Another touchdown, as Chris Olave finds himself uncovered in the back of the end zone pic.twitter.com/Zc8BTjUR41

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Two more sacks gave Ohio State four for the first half, and set up J.K. Dobbins for a pair of pretty scores. Dobbins, along with all of the other starters would only play the first half, but were still able to accumulate great stats.

Tyreke Smith with the first, and Davon Hamilton with the second sack for Ohio State on the same possession pic.twitter.com/P25kMkkA9b

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Everything is easy for the Buckeyes right now. Touchdown, Dobbins pic.twitter.com/1tpOXkGnM7

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Ohio State is in the end zone again after a beautiful Dobbins juke

pic.twitter.com/YWo1W2xnqm

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Even with the backup units in the game, the second half was much of the same. Ohio State struck early on a pretty pass from Chris Chugunov.

Chris Chugunov with a DIME to Garrett Wilson for six pic.twitter.com/I5tkFtRjpv

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

The defense picked up another sack thanks to Zach Harrison.

Zach Harrison gets his first sack of the game pic.twitter.com/YuvclkXVv0

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Sacks weren't the only big plays for the defense either, with K'Vaughan Pope grabbing his first interception of his career, in front of a very excited Al Washington.

K'Vaughan Pope with the interception, and no one is more excited for him than linebackers coach Al Washington pic.twitter.com/i2p8tnISfc

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

Demario McCall found the end zone twice in the final period following a Marcus Crowley injury as the Buckeyes never looked back.

Demario McCall has his second touchdown of the game, Buckeyes lead it 73-14 pic.twitter.com/zf8U8wFMT7

— Buckeye Sports Bulletin (@Buckeye_Sports) November 9, 2019

The 9-0 Buckeyes next take the field in Piscataway, New Jersey against Rutgers on Nov. 16.