

Ohio State Five-Star Running Back Commit TreVeyon Henderson Switches To Under Armour All-America Game

With NBC cancelling the annual All-American Bowl amid the coronavirus pandemic, Ohio State five-star running back commit TreVeyon Henderson announced on Oct. 25 he will now play in the Under Armour All-America Game.

I want to thank the All American Bowl for the great opportunity, they've shown me nothing but love! Due to them cancelling their game, I've decided to commit to the UA All American Game!!!! @DemetricDWarren #WEWILL pic.twitter.com/R5taLP4Adq

The 5-11, 195-pound Henderson was one of a nation-leading 12 Ohio State commits set to play in the All-American Bowl, including Pickerington (Ohio) North five-star defensive end Jack Sawyer; Bellaire (Texas) Episcopal five-star offensive guard Donovan Jackson; Philadelphia St. Joseph's Prep five-star quarterback Kyle McCord; St. Louis De Smet Jesuit four-star cornerback Jakailin Johnson; Massillon (Ohio) Washington four-star wide receiver Jayden Ballard; Streetsboro, Ohio, four-star defensive tackle Mike Hall; Suwanee (Ga.) North Gwinnett four-star cornerback Jordan Hancock; Ironton, Ohio, four-star linebacker Reid Carrico; Cornelius (N.C.) William Amos Hough four-star running back Evan Pryor; Philadelphia St. Joseph's Prep four-star wide receiver Marvin Harrison; and Manassas (Va.) Unity Reed four-star Tyleik Williams.

The Under Armour All-American Game could eventually cancel its game, as well. But if it remains intact,

Henderson would join Richfield (Ohio) Revere four-star offensive guard Ben Christman, who was the only future Buckeyes slated to play in the game.
