

Ohio State Quarterback Commit Dylan Raiola Impresses At Steve Clarkson QB Retreat

Future Ohio State quarterback Dylan Raiola, a five-star from Chandler (Ariz.) High School in the class of 2024, shined at Steve Clarkson's Quarterback Retreat in Los Angeles on Sunday, proving why many collegiate scouts consider him to be one of the nation's top signal-callers.

The 6-foot-3, 225-pound quarterback still has two seasons of high school football left but threw a 72-yard long toss at Clarkson's camp. He also used a unique mix of arm angles in several different passing drills.

2024 Ohio State QB commit Dylan Raiola slinging it 72 yards in the long toss competition today at the QB Retreat @steveclarkson | @RaiolaDylan | @OhioSt_Rivals | @adamgorney
pic.twitter.com/P8GcPm05CJ

— Rivals (@Rivals) May 29, 2022

Raiola's performance acted as a recruiting opportunity for the future Buckeye. He spent time with 2023 five-star receivers Brandon Inniss and Carnell Tate — two Ohio State targets in the upcoming recruiting class. Raiola also worked against 2024 Bellflower (Calif.) St. John Bosco five-star safety Peyton Woodyard.

Ohio State quarterback C.J. Stroud and wide receiver Jaxon Smith-Njigba were among the college prospects who attended the camp, allowing Raiola the opportunity to meet and hang out with current Buckeyes working on their game.

Raiola is not eligible to sign his national letter of intent for another 18 months. However, that hasn't stopped him from representing the Buckeyes wherever he goes, starting with Clarkson's camp and the many other showcases he'll attend this summer and in the future.