

Ohio State Women's Basketball Gets the No. 6 Seed In The Big Ten Tournament

With Rutgers hanging on to a 78-74 overtime win against Iowa, Ohio State will be a No. 6 seed in the Big Ten tournament next week.

The Buckeyes finished conference play with an 11-7 record and an 18-11 record overall, and have earned one bye for the tournament.

After the bottom-four teams in the Big Ten play Wednesday, Ohio State will take on the winner of the No. 11/14 matchup between Minnesota and Penn State.

The Buckeyes have a combined 3-0 record against the two teams, taking down the Gophers 66-63 on the road before blowing them out at home 99-76 on Feb. 13, while also defeating the Nittany Lions at home 80-70 on Jan. 12.

That game will take place 25 minutes after the conclusion of a 6:30 matchup between No. 7 Michigan and No. 10 Nebraska, and will be televised on the Big Ten Network.

Ohio State wrapped up its regular season with a 77-56 win against Purdue, and projected as a No. 9 seed for the NCAA tournament in ESPN's most recent Bracketology on Feb. 25.

For four free issues of the weekly print edition of Buckeye Sports Bulletin, no card required, sign up at the link here: <http://www.buckeyesports.com/subscribe-4issue-trial/>