Women's Ice Hockey Adds Elander To Staff

Ohio State women's ice hockey head coach Nadine Muzerall announced on Aug. 25 that Peter Elander – a former coach on Muzerall's Ohio State staff in 2017-18 – was returning to the program as an associate head coach.

Elander was at North Dakota for seven seasons as an associate head coach prior to joining Muzerall's staff in 2017, and he left Ohio State in 2018 due to personal reasons.

"We are excited to welcome back Peter Elander to Ohio State," Muzerall said. "He brings with him a wealth of knowledge of the game of hockey, an impressive European connection and a proven ability to improve talent. He has a quick wit and sense of humor and is a trusted and loyal person that I am excited to have back on my staff."

Since leaving Ohio State, Elander has spent the last few seasons coaching in Europe. He coached Denmark's national women's team in 2020.

"Throughout these last five years since he left, Peter has always maintained really good communication with me," Muzerall said. "He never really left the program. He was always a fan behind the scenes. Whether that was calling me and congratulating us or giving me a hyped-up talk before the Frozen Four, he was always in the know and always stayed relevant to our players and their success. I think that shows true of his character and his loyalty to Ohio State."

Prior to his time in coaching, Elander played with Team Sweden at the 1980 U20 World Championships and won a bronze medal, and he has also played in the Swedish Elite League in the 1980s.

With Elander's addition, Muzerall's staff is complete for the upcoming season that begins on Sept. 30 through Oct. 1 against Minnesota State. Her staff also includes director of operations Lauren Spring and assistant coach Kelsey Cline.
