

Georgia Transfer QB Justin Fields Arrives At Ohio State, Announces Officially Joining Buckeyes

Justin Fields arrived Friday at Ohio State and has completed his transfer from Georgia, joining the Buckeyes for the spring semester.

He announced the decision Friday on Twitter, about 10 hours after reports surfaced that Fields was on campus and set to move in before classes start Monday.

"To the college football community and, in particular, the wonderful UGA fans who've been so supportive of me this past year:

"My time at the University of Georgia has given me the opportunity to refine my skills under great coaches and to play with incredibly talented teammates who've become like brothers to me. I appreciate what Coach (Kirby) Smart and the UGA football coaching staff have done to help me progress as a quarterback and for their patience and understanding while I thoughtfully considered my future as a student-athlete.

"I've decided to transfer to Ohio State University where I will continue to pursue my undergraduate degree and play football for the Buckeyes.

"I'll miss my teammates more than they'll ever know, and I wish them all the best as they get ready for another great season. I hope the bonds we've developed this past year will never be forgotten by where we choose to play football or where we end up after college," Fields' tweet read.

— Justin Fields (@justnfields) January 5, 2019

Fields, the Bulldogs freshman quarterback and former 2018 five-star recruit, was reportedly set to explore a transfer from UGA with OSU among the top destinations on Dec. 18. He continued to practice with No. 5 Georgia (11-3) into its 28-21 loss to No. 15 Texas (10-4) in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day, officially completing his first season.

Also that day, No. 6 Ohio State finished its campaign against No. 9 Washington when the Buckeyes (13-1) beat the Huskies (10-4) 28-23 in the Rose Bowl. After seasons ended for both teams, OSU resumes classes Jan. 7 with Fields slated to move in and enroll by then, Lettermen Row first reported.

With sophomore quarterback Dwayne Haskins considered the top signal caller available in the 2019 NFL draft, Fields' expected transfer gives Ohio State needed depth at the position, should Haskins declare. The Buckeyes currently have three scholarship quarterbacks — redshirt freshman Tate Martell (5-11, 210), freshman Matthew Baldwin (6-3, 205) and junior Chris Chugunov (6-1, 203) — on top of two walk-on signal callers in sophomore Kory Curtis (6-3, 228) and freshman Danny Vanatsky (6-2, 195).

OSU had Oak Park, Mich., 2018 four-star quarterback Dwan Mathis committed since June 24. But the 6-6, 205-pounder flipped on early signing day Dec. 19 to the Bulldogs after rumors of Fields' transfer to Columbus surfaced.

Fields played in 12 games for UGA behind incumbent starter and sophomore quarterback Jake Fromm (6-2, 220). Off the bench, Fields completed 27 of his 39 (69.2 percent) passes for 328 yards and four touchdowns, and he added 42 rushes for 266 yards (6.2 average).

Fields was the 247Sports composite's No. 2 overall prospect, No. 1 dual-threat quarterback and No. 2 player in Georgia for the 2018 recruiting class. The 6-3, 225-pounder from Kennesaw (Ga.) Harrison was second in that cycle to only Cartersville, Ga., five-star Trevor Lawrence (6-6, 215) — who became Clemson's 2018 starter after ranking as the 247Sports composite's No. 1 overall prospect, No. 1 pro-style quarterback and No. 1 player in the Peach State.

Fields' reported transfer gives Ohio State its highest-rated recruit in program history. According to the 247Sports composite, former Buckeyes quarterback Terrelle Pryor (2008-10) — then a 6-6, 233-pounder from Jeannette, Pa., ranked as the No. 2 overall prospect, No. 1 dual-threat quarterback and No. 1 player in the Keystone State for the 2008 recruiting class — is tied for twelfth (0.9997) all time while Fields is tied for eighth (0.9998).

[divider line_type="Full Width Line" line_thickness="2" divider_color="default"]Join The Conversation